Medical Information (In strictest confidence)

Paddlesports can be strenuous activities, often in remote locations and inclement weather conditions. It is important we understand and accommodate known medical conditions (temporary or permanent) or additional needs that might affect your performance, safety, or communication. In particular, this includes Asthma, Epilepsy, Diabetes, Visual or Hearing Impairment or Anxieties. Please indicate effects, treatments and any special considerations you require.

NB: Notwithstanding the above, it is your responsibility to ensure club coaches, expedition leaders, and event organisers are fully aware of any condition that could affect your safety or the completion of a planned activity. If you carry medication (e.g. Inhaler, EpiPen, Glucose) ensure others know where it is carried and how to assist you in an emergency.
